

MEASURE OF DUTY REAL WORLD SERVICE

L. W. Boe Tells Augustana Graduates to Talk "Christian Faith Wherever You Go"

What a man does over and above his duty is one of the real contributions to the world, according to Dr. L. W. Boe, president of St. Olaf's college, Northfield, Minn., who addressed the graduates of Augustana college this morning at the commencement exercises.

Continuing, Dr. Boe said, "The object of all the teachings which you have received in your college training is to lead you to a life of service. There is no such thing as selfishness and egoism in the world today. People of the present day have the conception that the world owes certain rights and privileges to the individual, when in reality, we owe ourselves to the obligation of giving the best we have."

"Take your Christian faith with you, wherever you may go, and your life will become more valuable to yourself, to humanity, and to the world."

TRUE MANHOOD IS DEFINED IN HUTCHINS TALK

Eby Tells Rotarians Rock Island Exchange Handles 47,000 Calls Daily

Frank L. Eby, manager of the Bell Telephone company, told Rotarians at their noon luncheon in the Rock Island club today, that the local exchange handles an average of 47,000 local calls, and 1,400 long distance calls, daily. Busiest hours are from 9 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, when 13,000 calls are handled, and from 5 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon when the average is 9,500 calls.

A total of 1,210,000 stations in the state of Illinois, he said, handle 4,110,000 local calls daily and 70,000 long distance calls.

The club adjourned early in order to accept Mr. Eby's invitation to visit the exchange in a body.

A. W. Hutchins, Washington, D. C., field manager of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who is a director of the Chamber of Commerce Friday noon on "What Is the Matter With Business?" addressed the Rotarians on "The Measure of a Man."

"The measure of a man," Mr. Hutchins declared, "is the measure of his mind, of his life, of his citizenship expressed in terms of cooperation for the good of the community, and the measure of his ability to express the God or good in himself in terms of unselfish service."

Farmers on Job. Referring to the business situation he said that the United States Chamber of Commerce was working on a program affecting taxation and the tariff, which President Harding and Secretary Hoover at a meeting held week before last, had expressed themselves as favoring.

He said he took off his hat to the farmers, because while so many business men were just thinking about improving the business situation, the farmers were in Washington securing the passage of legislation favorable to their interests.

Mr. Hutchins said that every community had but two classes of people—residents and citizens. "Residents," he said, "lived on the town, but were not of it; citizens are of the town and for the town."

M. H. Sexton, president of the National Association of Minor Baseball leagues, pleaded for better attendance at the games, and urged the Douglas park diamond. It is not what it should be, he affirmed, and he called upon all Rotarians to support the game in Rock Island.

"I happen to be nationally known as a baseball player," he declared, "and I do not want a statement to be made as it is sometimes called, to get a black eye in the baseball world."

He expressed his opinion that the Rock Island team was playing a good game, "just as attractive as any baseball I have seen in this city for several years," he added.

BOYS OF ALBANIA ARE BEING TAUGHT DIGNITY OF WORK

Tirana, Albania.—Work is a disgrace in Albania. One who is forced to it is immediately ranked as a low class person. The Albanian society, as a result of this point of view, American teachers assigned to the American Red Cross vocational school here had first the task of teaching 60 or more boys coming from the higher social classes that if they wished to learn any trade the idea of spurning the hammer and the saw must be dispelled from their young minds.

When the boys congregated for their lessons at the school, they all refused to have anything to do with tools. The disdained touching anything that bore evidence of work. They refused to use brooms to sweep out their dormitories. The school at the school and maltreated with repugnant eyes.

The American teachers met this puzzling situation in a practical way. They began using the tools themselves, freely and naturally, and continued to demonstrate the value and help of a tool to the workers until finally the passive resistance of the young Albanians was completely overcome and they came to use every implement in the shop.

Long centuries of caste had taught the boys that the real gentleman was he who lived in idleness. A few months in the school and the age-long tradition was practically wiped out. The boys now do all the work, including the care of their own rooms and the waiting on the table of the school's faculty. The minds of these youths have been transformed, a constant reference to the upward struggle of American capitalists of industry who achieved their success through work have imbued each with such spirit of progress that the school, located in the midst of a slovenly, idle population, stands out in bold relief for its industry and zeal.

The students are adopting all sorts of other American characteristics. They have yells and songs; they have class fights and colors, and they have developed a school spirit. They have taken to athletics, baseball being the major sport, followed closely by boxing. Baseball is supervised by Ambrose B. Skelly of Albany, N. Y., an old college baseball star.

In boxing their only idea is to punch. Boxing fans would be delighted with the exhibition put on by the Tirana vocational school. It is practically all straight punching. There are no clinches. Each boxer thinks skill is measured by the rapidity and force with which he can land blows on the other man's face without regard to his own protection. Blows are what count to these Albanian boys and they give and take them like Spartans.

MAN WHO SOUGHT WHITE HOUSE JOB 3 TIMES IS DEAD

Pana, Ill., May 31.—Henry E. Simpson, 82, of Pana, three times an aspirant to the presidency of the United States, died yesterday at Broken Arrow, Okla., where he had been for the past six months on account of his illness.

A candidate before the Republican convention in 1880, Mr. Simpson lost the nomination to President Garfield. He left the Republic and made a second attempt for a nomination with the so-called Greenback party, but failed again. He dropped out of politics, then, and made no further attempts until 1912, when he organized the People's Christian party and was its presidential nominee. He secured a sprinkling of votes.

Years ago Mr. Simpson was accounted a very wealthy man but by charitable donations he disposed almost of his entire property. It is said here his estate is worth no more than $6,000 now. His remains are being returned here for interment.
